DETAILED ACTION

Finality of the last Office Action Withdrawn

1. Applicant's request for reconsideration of the finality of the rejection of the last Office action, per telephonic conversation of March 28, 2006, is persuasive and, therefore, the finality of that action is withdrawn.

Election/Restrictions

2. Claims 5, 13, 14, 18 and 19 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on June 16, 2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-3, 6-11 and 15-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. 5,558,900 (Fan et al) as per reasons of record.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed May 15, 2006 have been fully considered and are partially persuasive to the extent that the rejection based on Creasy has been withdrawn.

With respect to Fan et al, it is maintained that patentees do embrace and suggest using, as the inert solvent component, dichloromethane, a preferred solvent, in admixture with ethyl acetate. This is because dichloromethane is one of the preferred solvents and the reference clearly teaches and exemplifies “mixtures” of the listed solvents. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have employed a mixture of the preferred dichloromethane solvent with ethyl acetate (one of the remaining 10 suitable solvents listed) for their expected additive effect, absent evidence of unusual or unexpected results.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 4 and 12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The disclosure of Fan et al, limited to ethyl acetate, does not reasonably provide suggestion to use either ethyl lactate or methylbenzoate as suitable solvents.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Art Unit: 1711
